TIP SHEET: THE IMPORTANCE OF TAKING A 🌟 "WORK-FREE" VACATION

- 1. Have better performance reviews. Employees who take vacations tend to perform
- 2. Boost your heart health. Missing one year's vacation has been associated with a higher
- 3. Increase your focus. Vacations allow employees to return to work with a strong focus.
- 4. Gain new perspectives. Vacations allow employees to gain perspective on everyday
- 5. Take a break. Vacations give employees a break from their usual routines.
- 6. Experience new things. You will have new experiences that can lead to a broadening of
- 7. Allow for personal growth. Vacations allow for personal and social development.
- 8. Share in your experiences with others. Vacations promote shared experiences among
- 9. Increase your well-being. Vacations decrease the risk of depression.
- 10. Contribute to overall family harmony. Family vacations contribute positively to family
- 11. Take every day of vacation you are given. You will get more overall work done at a
- 12. Do not settle for 3-4 days off. Short vacations are fine, but they are insufficient.
- 13. Avoid taking a "working vacation." This counteracts the benefits of taking time off.
- 14. Gain more energy. You will come back energized and more productive if you take a
- 15. Do not check in constantly. You trust your co-workers, so constant check-ins are
- 16. Act as an example of balance. When you respond to e-mails on vacation, you set a
- 17. Put your to-do list on hold. Getting ahead on vacation is not worth it. The only way to
  - 18. Don't miss out. By doing work on vacation, you will miss out on
  - 19. Public Wi-Fi is not worth it. Wi-Fi is often slow, unreliable, and not
  - 20. Pack lighter. If you leave your computer at home, you will have a lighter suitcase and you won't have to worry about your computer being

www.bc.edu/cwf